EMPOWER YOUR TEAM AND GROW YOUR PRACTICE

When team members know exactly what to do each day, are empowered to do so, and are recognized for their efforts, sustainable growth and a healthier culture is almost guaranteed. Learn as Clay Shubin of Dental Intelligence shares some of the power and key uses of data so you can walk away with a few principles that, if applied will have an immediate impact on your practices team performance, patient care and profitability.

- How to grow your practice with what you have today
- Best practices around empowering your team
- Sustained team culture, performance and satisfaction

ABOUT CLAY SHUBIN

DENTAL INTELLIGENCE

As a founding team member of Dental Intelligence, Clay has become known for helping Dental Coaching Firms and other Partners become more effective in understanding the performance data within dental practices to identify key strengths, areas of opportunity, and the specific causes that can be addressed to impact performance. With over 15 years of Cloud/SaaS leadership experience, Clay has driven programs within larger environments such as Oracle, along with smaller budding technology companies, for example, playing a unique role in the successful IPO of Nuance (NUAN: NASDAQ). When not helping partners understand practice performance data, Clay can be found wake surfing, snow skiing, cycling, or coaching the local high school mountain bike team.
